Time of Use.

Direct Energy does not guarantee any savings during the Initial Term.

See page three (3) of this letter for a list of all incentives of which you are currently eligible.

The Initial Term of this Agreement will start on the next available meter read date after your electric generation supplier is changed to Direct Energy by your EDC.

12 monthly billing cycles.

[ETF]

You can avoid the early termination fee and the device cost recovery fee by completing the Initial Term.

Prior to the expiration date of the Initial Term, you will receive two separate written notifications explaining the proposed changes to the terms of service and your options going forward. The first notification will be provided no more 60 days and no less than 45 days in advance of the expiration of the Initial Term. The second notification will be provided at least 30 days in advance. If you find the change(s) unacceptable, you may choose another supplier or return to EDC service without any penalty to you. If you do not respond to the notifications, your service with Direct Energy will continue under the new terms and the Agreement, as amended, will automatically renew on a month-to-month basis or to another fixed term contract as set forth in the notifications with no early cancellation fee or device cost recovery fee.
